Additional Information

Please note that as part of its due diligence review process, the Foundation will check each Applicant Organization’s status on the following government databases:

- Internal Revenue Service’s Tax Exempt Organization Search (to check an Applicant Organization’s eligibility to receive tax-exempt charitable donations (generally only a 501(c)(3))
- California Secretary of State’s Business Search (to check whether properly formed corporations and LLCs are listed as “active”)

The results of this due diligence review will be taken into consideration as part of the Foundation’s evaluation of the Applicant Organization’s track record, stability, and financial health. This due diligence review does not apply to governmental unit Applicant Organizations, and certain other organizations may not be required to register with some of the above entities or otherwise appear in some of the above databases. If an Applicant Organization has questions regarding its required registration with any of these four government databases, it should contact the relevant entities and/or confer with appropriate legal counsel.
